The Day We Celebrate

THE current discussion of freedom and liberties shows widespread concern as to how secure is our famed independence.

Independence, according to the dictionary, is exemption from reliance on others, with the attendant control by others; direction of one's own affairs without interference.

In our celebration of Independence Day, there has been something missing. Statesman orators have overemphasized political freedom at the expense of economic Freedom. There is abundant evidence that our valiant forefathers at Lexington and Yorktown were more concerned with freedom to work and to enjoy the fruits of their labor unmolested, than in elections. The elections were a necessary evil to protect this freedom—individual reward for individual merit.

The Declaration of Independence was a ringing protest against political interference, taxation, bureaucracy. It was a revolt against being pushed around. The Magna Carta and our own Bill of Rights were directed against the encroachment of government upon the rights of the individual, upon his independence.

Sober reflection raises the question: While guarding the front door against the open tyranny of government, are we letting tyranny in disguise slip in the back door with its sugared proposals of something for nothing? "Abject dependence upon government," said President Eliot of Harvard, "is an accursed inheritance of the days of the divine right of kings."

Abject dependence on government is also the accursed prescription of a communistic order.

Much of the praise of communism springs from the ignoble desire for a slavish security without the rigors of struggle. This soul-sickness includes all classes, high and low. Even nations. Many businesses are eager for a government handout if it seems to insure continuance of the enterprise with less annoying competition: the workingman wants someone else to secure his job and to take care of him in old age. The farmer is loath to give up a subsidy: the middle class are tempted to accept a Government plan to build their homes for them. Each is ready to sign a blank check in payment. Yet adventuring and chance-taking on the part of the individual are as necessary to progress and well-being as when Shakespeare declared.

"And you all know security
Is mortals' chiefest enemy."

The responsibility and enthusiasm of the single human is the "indispensable" of the United States of America.

Independence Day, 1950, gives us the opportunity to rededicate ourselves to eternal vigilance against dependence upon the State, which always carries with it a corresponding loss of independent action, and self-respect.

We do not want to see July Fourth become Dependence Day.

U. S. Traffic Toll Stands at 375 Deaths

Slaughter May Be Biggest in History of U. S.

Traffic Jam Tuesday Eve To Be Heaviest

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weekend accidental death toll had climbed to 375 today as millions of motorists took to highways and beaches for the July 4 celebration.

The National Safety Council had said it would be the highest four-day traffic jam in history and predicted that 385 would be killed before it ends, about midnight tomorrow.

The council estimated that 36,000,000 vehicles would be on the highways between 6 p. m. (local times) Friday and midnight Tuesday.

Highway mishaps had caused 252 deaths. There were 74 drownings one fireworks fatality, and 48 from other miscellaneous causes.

The deaths by midwest states, with traffic, drownings, fireworks and miscellaneous in that order: Illinois 11-1-0-1; Indiana 6-1-0-5; Iowa 4-3-0-0; Missouri 7-0-0-1; and Wisconsin 7-0-0-0.

Dixon's July Fourth To Be Loud and Busy

Just a reminder!

Swimming, boating, fireworks, surfboard riding and concerts are on Dixon's Fourth of July agenda.

Memorial pool will be open. There'll be two band concerts at Lowell park—one at 11 by the Dixon State hospital band and the other at 2:30 by the Municipal band.

Also at 2:30 in Lowell park there will be power boat races. At 8:30 p. m., a boating regatta is scheduled. About 8:30 an hour and a half, $750 fireworks display will start on the north bank of Rock river, between the Galena avenue bridge and the dam.

North Korean Trucks Hit By Fighters

Invaders Hang on To Base at Suwon

Tokyo, Tuesday, July 3—(AP)—American and Australian fighter planes wrecked seven North Korean tanks and 22 trucks and shot down two hostile planes Monday, headquarters announced today.

Stung by the air attacks, the Communist invaders of South Korea are increasing their anti-aircraft positions in the Seoul area, said the communique issued by General MacArthur's headquarters.

It said North Korean bombing attacks had failed to dislodge the South Koreans who still were hanging onto Suwon, 23 miles south of Seoul.

The North Koreans were said, however, to be building up bases and supplies to support a renewed drive southward from the Han river, which flows just south of Seoul.

The communique said bombers continued their attacks on invader bridges over the Han river, while B-29's for the second day in a row bombed Yoonpo airfield, 135 miles inside North Korea.

An ammunition dump was blown up at an undisclosed place, a locomotive was destroyed and three others damaged. Twenty-nine enemy trucks and five tanks also were listed as damaged.

One American B-26 attack bomber was forced down at sea in the day's operations, while three F-jet fighters were lightly damaged by ground fire.

American ground forces reached the warfront, dug advanced positions and got a baptism of fire from strafing planes today, but by nightfall they had not seen the North Korean ground enemy.

Radio Pyongyang said last night 39 American bombers raided that North Korean capital twice today, dropping more than 800 bombs.

Two U. S. Bombers Hit

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said two American bombers were knocked down by intercepting North Korean fighters.

Bombs ranged from 100 to 1,000 pounds, the broadcast said.

General MacArthur's advanced headquarters in South Korea said the invaders had made no serious progress during the day, marked

Medical Group Hears Dr. Seifert, July 13th

Dr. Martin H. Seifert instructor in medicine at Northwestern University Medical school, will address the Whiteside-Lee County Medical Societies at the Miami Dining Room, Hotel Galt, Sterling, Ill., Thursday, July 13, 1950, on "Early Diagnosis of Poliomyelitis."

Dr. Seifert is appearing under the auspices of the Scientific Service Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society at the request of Dr. Fletcher Austin, Sterling, program chairman of Whiteside County Medical Society.

Dr. Seifert is a graduate of the University of Illinois College of Medicine, a Fellow of the American Medical Association, a member of the American Public Health Association, and he is a specialist certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine.

Defaults on Support Payments; Ashtonite Gets Jail Sentence

Robert Warkins, Ashton, drew a 50-day jail sentence Saturday from County Judge Grover W. Gehant for defaulting on payments to his wife and child.

The payments were ordered by Judge Gehant three weeks ago when Warkins was charged with abandoning his wife and year-old boy.

Sgt. York, Hero of First War, Very Ill

Pall Mall, Tenn., July 3—(AP)—Sgt. Alvin C. York, American hero of World war I, is ill with virus pneumonia.

Mrs. York said her husband, 62, was confined to bed Friday after being ill for several weeks. His condition was improved yesterday, she said.

The big, red-haired Tennessee mountain man single-handedly captured 132 Germans in one of the outsanding exploits of World war I. As a soldier, he was noted for his marksmanship.

Hopalong Cassidy a Stand-in for Stalin

Stalin was taken to a hospital for wax dummies yesterday. His head had come loose due to old age.

Youth, Tavernkeeper Involved In Girl's Delinquency Charge

Charges of delinquency, contributing to delinquency and selling liquor to a minor will be aired this afternoon in county court in connection with a Saturday night drinking spree involving a 15-year-old girl.

She's Patricia Jordan, 15, of 121 E. Boyd. Her father, Thomas, signed a complaint charging Harold Withey, 21, who lives on a farm near Franklin Grove, with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

According to Withey's statements to Sheriff Gilbert P. Finch and Officers Fred Sanford and Raymond Olson, he met the Jordan girl and Bonnie Sitter, 909 S. Galena avenue, at a drug store.

He said the three of them went out to William Smith's tavern (Big Oaks, Palmyra road) where they had several drinks. He admitted taking the Sitter girl home about midnight but added he went to work about 7 in the morning leaving Patricia Jordan in his car. He parked the car in a garage at the cement plant.

The girl's father signed the complaint when she came home Sunday morning.

State's Attorney Morey C. Pires said today that William Smith will be charged with selling liquor to a minor and that a petition will be filed charging the girl with delinquency.

The maximum penalty for contributing to the delinquency of a minor is a $200 fine and a year in jail.

Withey is being held in county jail pending a hearing.

Robinson Pays $100 Fine, and Loses License

Charles Robinson, 23, route 3, was fined $100 and costs Saturday and lost his driver's license for a year when he pleaded guilty to drunken driving in Judge Grover W. Gehant's county court.

He was arrested early Saturday morning for driving south on Dixon avenue while intoxicated by Officers John Woodyatt and Ray Wilson.

A charge of assault with a deadly weapon against Robinson was continued until Wednesday. According to the charges of State's Attorney Morey C. Pires, Robinson brandished a hunting knife at his brother-in-law, Henry C. Raffenberger, also of route 3, after a quarrel the same night he was arrested for drunken driving.

George Collins Gets 60 Days In County Jail

George Collins, 68, 1012 Madison avenue, began a 60-day jail sentence Saturday after his plea for probation was overruled by County Judge Grover W. Gehant.

Friday a Lee county jury found Collins guilty of assault with a deadly weapon in connection with a shooting after a family quarrel May 20. According to the charges of State's Attorney Morey C. Pires, Collins leveled a shotgun blast at his son, Robert, 30.

The jury also recommended a $500 fine. Collins' plea for probation was overruled on the advice of A. C. Handel, county court probation officer. Handel said Collins was placed on a year's probation in 1945 for the same offense, assault with a deadly weapon.

Bushman the Gorilla Near Invalid, Report

Chicago, July 3—(AP)—Bushman, the aged and famed mammoth gorilla, is a semi-invalid.

R. Marlin Perkins, director of Lincoln Park zoo, said yesterday the old fellow's right arm and leg are partially paralyzed and that he now spends most of his time lying down in his cage.

Perkins attributed the stroke to a blood clot. A month ago, the 550-pound gorilla, which Perkins calls the world's most valuable zoo animal, was stricken with a heart ailment from which he has not fully recovered.

At 22 years, Bushman is an old man among apes. His age is equivalent to 70 years for a human.

Rail Strikers Refuse To Go Back to Work

Chicago, July 3—(AP)—The Switchmen's Union of North America refused yesterday a government plea to call off its strike against five western and midwestern railroads.

At the same time, it served notice that the strike will end only if the nation becomes involved in war or President Truman should declare some other national emergency exists. It offered, however, to help in movement over the struck lines of any shipments the government should deem essential to the national economy.

The statement was in reply to the request made of the union Saturday by John Thad Scott, Jr., chairman of the National (railway) Mediation Board.

Refers to Korea

In his request, Scott asked the switchmen to go back to their jobs "in the national interest" because of what he called "current critical developments" arising from the fighting in Korea.

The union reply questioned whether a national emergency now exists.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock issued the first July marriage license today to George E. McCann, 55, and Mrs. Agnes Long, 60, both of Sterling.

The total June marriage licenses was 51. The June, 1949, total was 36.

Harold Thicksten's Probation Extended; Violated Court Rule

Harold Thicksten, 21, Rock Falls, had his original probation period of 30 days extended to six months Saturday in Judge Grover W. Gehant's county court.

Thicksten drew the first probation sentence for reckless driving three weeks ago. He also lost his driving privileges for 30 days.

State's Attorney Morey C. Pires asked that Thicksten be cited for contempt of court after he was fined in Oregon a week ago for reckless driving.

Eleven U. S. Officers Killed in Air Crash

Washington, July 3—(AP)—The army yesterday put out its first official list of the campaign in Korea—the result of a plane crash.

It named 11 officers and men missing after the crash of a transport carrying them from Japan to South Korea. There were no details.

It was not known whether this was the same crash announced Sunday in Tokyo. The Far East Air Force said then that a C-54 transport carrying 23 persons crashed with no survivors near Pusan, South Korea.

Bobby Locke, Van Donck in Record Scores

Troon, Scotland, July 3—(AP)—Defending champion Bobby Locke of S. Africa and Flory Van Donck a veteran Belgian pro, fired record-breaking scores today in the first qualifying round for the British Open Golf Championship.

Locke, the 4 to 1 favorite to repeat, shot a six-under-par 36-32—68 for the long Lochgreen layout. Van Donck a tall, bronzed athlete, carded a five-under-par 65 over the championship Troon course.

Thus they grabbed the lead among the early finishers.

Long-driving Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh, paced the American contingent with a par-equalling 70 over Troon. He went out in 34 and returned in 36.

Half of the 244 starters played over the par 70 Troon links and the other half over the par 74 Lochgreen layout. Tomorrow the contestants will swap courses for the final 18-hole qualifying round. The 100 top scorers will earn the right to play in the 72-hole championship proper on the Troon links. The qualifying scores won't count in the championship.

Meantime Bulla said he thinks finally he can carry the British Open title back across the Atlantic. He's making his sixth bid for the crown.

Russia Claims U. S. Bombs East Germany With Potato Bugs!!

London, July 3 (AP) Russia has followed up accusations that the United States is bombing East Germany with potato bugs by charging that "American militarists are actively preparing bacterial war."

Moscow radio carried the charge last night.

Late last week Russia sent a note to the United States formally accusing American planes of dropping potato bugs on East Germany.

Similar complaints, made earlier by the East German Communist-led government, were laughed off by U. S. officials as too absurd for comment.

Alfred Nichols One Of Calhoun's Heirs

Alfred Herbert Nichols, 622 E. Third street, was named as an heir in an $80,000 will approved Saturday in Judge Grover W. Gehant's county court.

The will was that of Samuel A. Calhoun, Oklahoma City, Okla., who died December 15, 1949. It was recorded here because it involved property valued at $80,000 in Lee county.

Calhoun left his estate to his widow and sisters none of whom live in Lee county, but stipulated that upon their deaths, Nichols was to receive three-fourths of the remainder of the estate.

Bloomington Mother Proud Of Her Son, Missing in Korea

Bloomington, Ill., July 3—(AP) The mother of a soldier reported missing in the Korean campaign, said yesterday:

"He just did his duty, and I'm proud of him."

That was the reaction of Mrs. Charlotte Jackson, 44, upon hearing that her son, Cpl. Raymond C. Morrissey, 22, is reported missing among the first casualties of the war in Korea.

She said her son liked the army and had planned to make a career of it. He enlisted in 1946 and had been stationed in Tokyo for the last three years.

Mrs. Jackson is the wife of a parking lot attendant. Her first husband died several years ago.

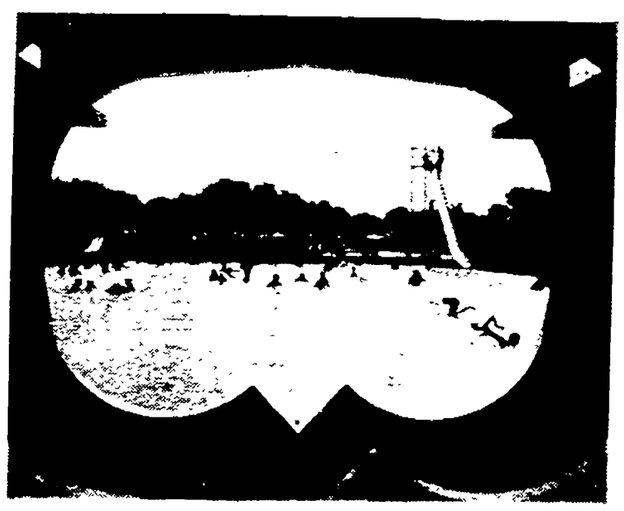

She said she last heard from her son in May, but "he wasn't very good about writing."

She said she won't stand in the way if the eldest of three other sons, Delmar, 19, decides to enlist. Her other sons are Lester, 12, and Willis, 8.

Hiyah, Sucker?

Springfield, Ill., July 3—(AP)—State police reported today that slot machines seized in recent raids were fixed to cut down payoffs.

Police found that virtually all the slots were equipped with devices allowing the operators to set the amount of payoff to the customer. Some machines were fixed so that players could never hit the jackpot.

SWIMMING POOL POPULAR — Dixon's Memorial Swimming Pool was a popular place over the weekend. The above scene shows some of the swimmers framed through the diving platform structure. Several hundred Dixonites took advantage of the warm weather to frolic in the pool Sunday.

Deer Me!!!

Arlington, Mass., July 3—(AP)—A deer jumped in and out of a greenhouse today causing a girl secretary to faint. It apparently injured itself in breaking three windows.

The animal leaped through one window to enter. Then, after trampling flowers, it leaped through a window to a storeroom, where Miss Gladys Humphries, the secretary, fainted.

The deer escaped.

In Oklahoma, July 4th Is Day for Red Hot Election

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A slam-bang primary for a U. S. senate seat will be put up to Oklahoma Democrats tomorrow in the nation's only Independence Day election.

On-the-scene political observers are looking for a close count between 73-year-old Senator Elmer Thomas and 48-year-old Rep. Mike Monroney for the Democratic senatorial nomination. There are five other entries and if no one gets a majority, there will be a run-off July 25.

National attention is focused on the Oklahoma election partly because it's a holiday affair and partly because of the vigor of the campaigning.

There are some signs that the Truman administration would prefer Monroney over Thomas, but both are regarded as followers of President Truman on major issues.

Oklahoma Republicans also will be nominating tomorrow.

Don't Fall for That Bunk About Things Being Put on Ration List: It's a Big Lie

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 3 (AP)—A woman neighbor of mine went into a store the other day to buy a pair of shoes. It was just a couple of days after Americans began shooting in Korea.

She bought a pair. Then the clerk said in a low voice: "If I were you, right now I'd buy as many pairs of shoes as I could afford. I'd really lay in a supply."

"Because," the man said, "still in his low voice, "we may be getting into another world war. You can't tell, and this row shoes may be rationed."

A Lucky Guy

It was lucky for him that the woman was both small and old. If she hadn't been, she told me, she would have put knots on his head and wrapped the bench around his neck.

She knew what he was trying to do: Appeal to any greed she had to get her to buy more shoes than she needed by using "rationing" as a scare word.

If she fell for it, he'd boost his sale of shoes. It was a low trick, a dishonest one, for she knew what the awful affect on her and all others would be if clerks in stores all over America tried the same stunt on their customers.

Sudden Inflation

It would mean a crushing, sudden inflation. For if everyone began buying more than he needed—whether shoes, food, clothes, or furniture — pretty soon the supply would be exhausted.

Then, with demand outstripping supply, prices would go soaring, just as they did after World War II when price controls came off and goods were still fairly scarce.

There's a simple answer to talk of rationing now: So far as I can learn, the government now has no power to ration anything or put price controls on anything unless congress approves by passing a brand new law.

I talked with a number of people in the government about this, lawyers and heads of staffs which would be in a position to know what the government could do in an emergency.

Powers Ended

I asked them: "I know that the government's rationing and price control powers were ended by congress. But —

"Is it possible that somewhere, hidden away out of sight in some law still on the books, the government could find the power in an emergency suddenly to slap on rationing and price controls?"

Everyone I asked—and one was a lawyer who should know as much as anyone in this field—said they knew of no such hidden power or law except for this:

No one can say what the president might do in a fierce emergency, acting under his powers as commander-in-chief of the nation's armed forces.

In such a fierce emergency, no one would venture to predict what the president might say he had the power to do. He could act first and let congress approve afterwards.

But if the president feels he has such power, it's strange that only last year he asked congress to give him stand-by powers—that is, to pass a law giving him power to ration and control prices if an emergency arose.

Congress ignored this request. It never gave him the power.

Lodge Briefs, Club Meetings In Mt. Morris

Mt. Morris—Mt. Morris chapter OES is sponsoring a state-wide project for every chapter to have pictures of its members taken, free of charge to both the lodge and the members. Fifty nine members of the local order had their pictures taken on Monday evening.

Four young women were initiated into the local chapter, the Misses Joan Long, Dorothy Avey, Marlene Ebert and Suzanne Coffman.

Five grand chapter committee members were honored. They were Mrs. Carroll Boston, Dixon, Mrs. Ben Cousin, Mrs. Ernest Boydston, Mrs. Walter Leopold and Mrs. John Blash.

Pastor Returns

Dr. John Nightengale, pastor of the local Methodist church has returned for another year.

The annual conference of the church closed on Sunday when appointments of pastors were read. This marks the completion of the first year of service here by Dr. Nightengale. He came to Mt. Morris from Freeport last year.

U. S. Held Better Prepared for War Than Ever Before in Our Peacetime History!

(First of a series of five articles on the state of American preparedness for war.)

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

Washington, July 3 (AP) — America's ability to wage war is the greatest in peacetime history.

Top military leaders agree this is so, but they caution that our potential enemies are formidable too.

Whether top peacetime strength is adequate—with guns and bombs blazing in Korea and with other trouble spots dotting the world map—remains to be answered. America's potential foe, Soviet Russia, is powerfully armed.

U. S. Outnumbered

U. S. Army forces in Europe numbering around 100,000 are far outnumbered by Soviet and satellite armies.

Does the U. S. have superiority in atomic and possibly other weapons to offset distance and small number of troops in case of an attack against it in Europe? Probably only actual fighting can tell.

Top Pentagon officials say it's the same old army story, but with a new twist: "Getting there fustest with the mostest atom bombs."

To forestall the possibility of a sneak air raid a radar network is operating in the northwest, northeast and Alaska. This is to detect the presence of enemy planes. But the network is far from complete.

A staff of about 170,000 civilian volunteers is being recruited to help watch for enemy planes and to broadcast warnings in case of attack.

As for military strength, Defense Secretary Johnson has said:

"The state of readiness of our armed forces and the military potential of our country are greater today than in any previous peacetime period in the nation's history."

Manpower totals 1,458,400 people compared with 2,235,000 at the time of Pearl Harbor. We have 776,600 fewer military personnel now than at the time of the Japanese attack, but Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff has said.

Ahead in A-Bomb?

"We stand today stronger in the effectiveness of our men in uniform than at any time since the end of World War II."

Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of U. S. scientific research and development in World War II, told reporters last month we are well ahead of Russia in atomic warfare developments.

Russia has a fleet of at least 270 submarines much more formidable than those used by Germany in World War II. If we had to maintain a long supply line, across the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, this would be a somber situation.

However, military men point out we have developed new anti-submarine devices, too.

U. S. Strong in Air

The latest compilation of "acknowledged" bases—there are other, secret ones—made for the Associated Press, shows we have 17 navy bases scattered around the world and more than 40 air bases. And we have troops scattered around the world to protect them.

Military construction figures give some hint of the building program that has been started.

Officials told congress they planned to spend around $240,000,000 on the projects. Included is $23,000,000 for a secret navy base. Its location and purpose were not explained.

The army asked $71,224,000 to strengthen troop bases for the protection of foreign bases and airfields.

Officials also have disclosed that our pile of critical and strategic war materials is less than half complete.

This pile consists of materials we do not produce in sufficient quantities to supply our needs.

A Confused Eagle Scout Meets An Eagle Beaver and--Zowie!

By HAL BOYLE

Valley Forge, Pa. (AP) The fat man toiled wearily up a hill in the encampment of 47,000 Boy Scouts here for their second National jamboree.

Despite the hot sun the man being romantic, as most fat people are—was swept with sentimental memories of his own days as a Scout.

He passed a tent just as a fat young boy in shorts came out. The fat man paused to rest, mopping his flushed, perspiring brow. He looked at the fat Boy Scout. Then he twisted his face in a grimace and said loudly:

"Kreee!"

Fat Boy Stares

The fat boy stared doubtfully at him and asked:

"What did you say, sir?"

"Kreee Kreee" said the fat man hopefully. "I used to belong to the Eagle patrol. That is the cry of the Eagle patrol—kreee. don't you recognize it?"

"No, sir, I don't."

"Well, I can't blame you for that," said the fat man. "I always thought it sounded funny for eagles to go around saying, 'kreee.' But that's what the Scout handbook said they did—when I was a boy. What is your patrol?"

The fat boy promptly clapped his hands loudly.

"Never mind the applause," said the fat man angrily.

"But that is the sign of my patrol—the Beaver patrol, sir," said the young Scout. "You clap your hands together. It is supposed to be like the sound of a beaver slapping his tail on the water as a signal of alarm to the other beavers."

The Boy Fidgets

The fat man asked him why he had joined the Beaver patrol. The fat boy fidgeted a moment, then said:

"Because I thought it was the easiest cry to make of any of the patrols listed in our handbook, sir."

"Hmm," said the fat man. "What are some of them?"

"Well, if you join the otter patrol our handbook says the cry is —'koi-oi-oik.' I just couldn't say 'koi-oi-oik' and feel like I was a real otter. And the cry for the porcupine patrol is just to make your teeth chatter. That's hard, too. And if you join the gull patrol you go 'kow-howk,' 'kow-howk.'"

Here Are Other Calls

The fat man wanted to know about the other choices. So the fat boy ran into his tent and came back with the Scout handbook opened at the page giving the patrol names and their calls. The fat man glanced and saw a few:

Raven—"Rar-kaw."
Panther—"Keeook."
Moose—"Oh-ah, oh-ah, oh-ahhh."
Flaming Arrow—"Wssss."
Heron—"Quawk, quawk."
Owl—Loud coo.
Alligator—Grunting hiss.
Rattlesnake — Rattle pebbles in can.
Pine Tree—Rustle paper.
Beaver—Clap hands once.

"You see, sir," explained the fat boy anxiously. "The Beaver patrol is really the one to join."

"What do you plan to be when you grow up, son?"

"A lawyer."

"Well, I don't know what kind of a Scout you are," said the fat man, as he started to waddle on up the hill, "but I predict right now you'll be a darn good lawyer. Goodbye, my boy—and kreeeee!"

The fat boy clapped his hands once. The Eagle and the Beaver understood each other.

Sinatra, Gardner Have a Quiet Talk

London, July 3—(AP)—Frank Sinatra whisked Ava Gardner off to a Thames river village last night for dinner and a quiet talk. They didn't even dance.

Screenland gossips have had the two warmly interested in each other. Ava debunked all this talk, however, when the crooner flew to Spain for a holiday while she was making a movie there.

The actress has been here several weeks working on a film. Sinatra arrived from America Saturday. He begins a two-week Music Hall engagement next Monday at the London Palladium.

Czech Communists Plan New 'Purge'

Prague, Czechoslovakia, July 3 —(AP)—Czech Communist leaders have ordered the severest purge the party has had since it took power here in February, 1948.

The party's central committee announced in the official Communist newspaper Rude Pravo yesterday that every party member will be placed on probation from next Sept. 1 to Dec. 15 in an effort to weed out undesirables. New party cards will be issued New Year's Day the announcement said.

Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary have had party "purifications" of varying intensity in recent months.

More than half of all U. S. urban families own their homes today — 55 per cent, as against 36 per cent in 1900.

Bible School In Amboy Ends

Amboy—A scramble dinner at the Congregational church Friday noon was the climax to the Congregational Vacation Bible school held at the church the last two weeks. The general theme was 'Knowing Your Bible.'

Under the leadership of the pastor, the Rev. Charles M. Hill, 40 children attended classes following an opening devotional service. There was also a recreational period and a handicraft class. In addition to the Rev. Hill, the teachers were Mrs. Glenn Boyer, Miss Carole As[illegible], Mrs. J. A. Leggett, Mrs. Gertrude Reinholn, Mrs. [illegible] Flach, Mrs. Oral Spurlin, Mrs. Myron Rice and Mrs. Robert Koester.

Parents and friends were invited to the picnic dinner held the last day of the school.

Amboy Briefs

Mrs. Robert Koehler and Richard motored to Naperville Sunday where Richard will spend a week at an Evangelical boys camp. His cousin Roger Gamm [illegible] will be with him.

Forty six members of the Green River Farmers club and their families had a scramble picnic dinner Sunday, July 2, at Green River park. After dinner there were games for both grown-ups and children with prizes for winners.

Mrs. Winifred Canavan and Martin and E. L. Mason, Chicago, spent the weekend in Amboy visiting the B. A. Schneider home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carr left Saturday morning for Albuquerque and California.

Congratulations

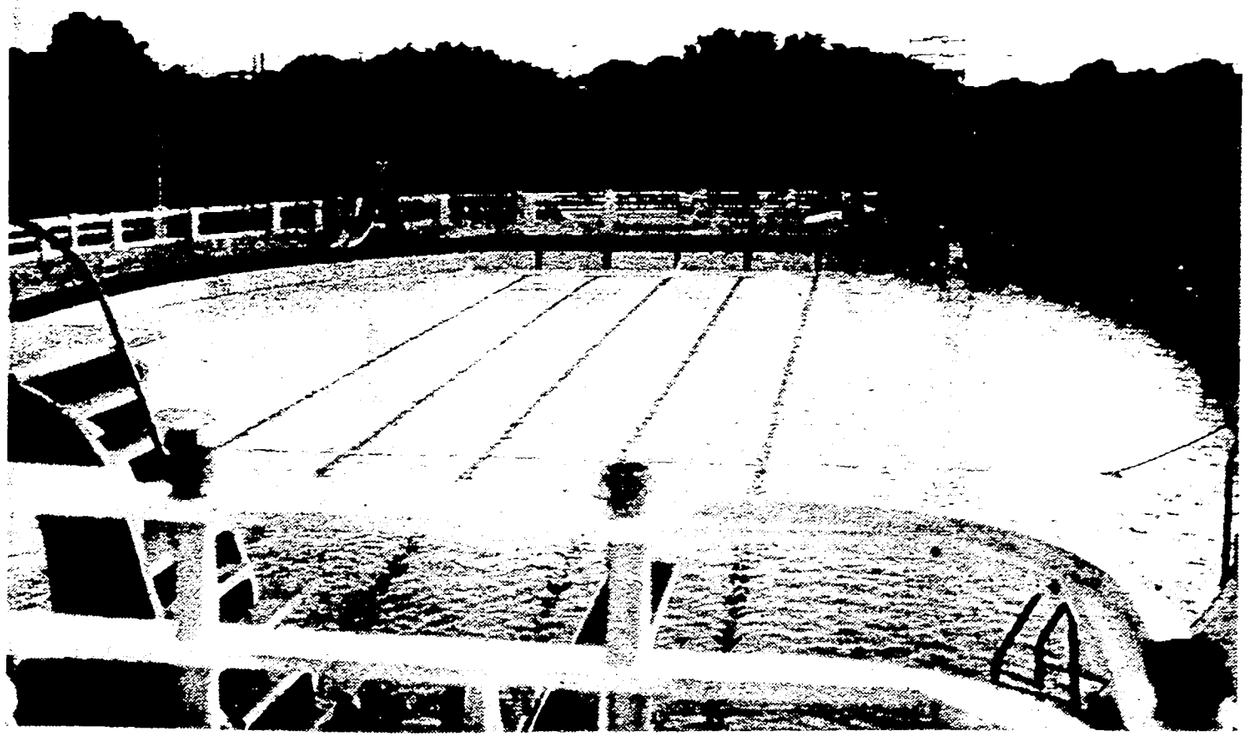

To the City of Dixon,
It's Populace,
and Members of Park Board

ARE IN ORDER

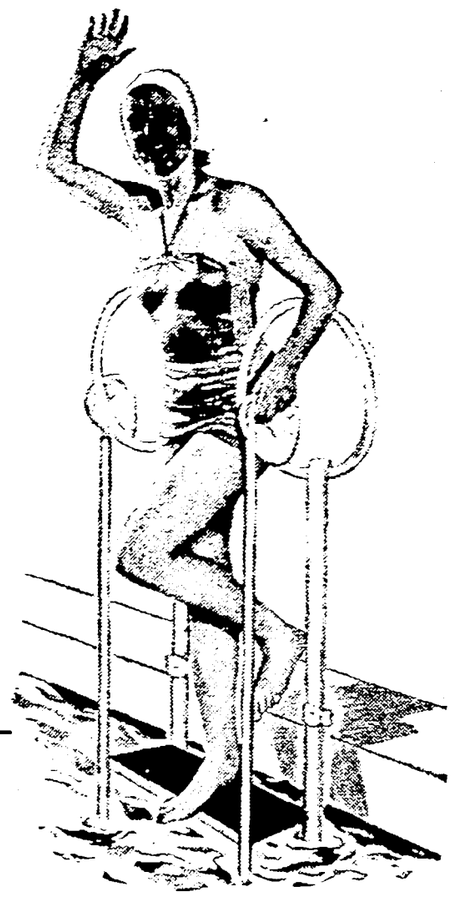

Yes, Dixonites, you are to be congratulated on obtaining this fine pool for your city. Besides being a beautiful building to look upon, it will serve to curb child delinquency and instruct the children in the fine art of swimming. The city has long been in need of this civic improvement and will long enjoy its benefits . . . for it is indeed one of rare but very practical design. It will be the envy of all communities.

The park board too, is not to be forgotten for their untiring efforts directed toward seeing that only the best in workmanship and material was secured for your endless enjoyment.

Let the UN Signia Lead the Way!

We have no private quarrel with Moscow's North Korean stooges. We're acting to defend South Koreans against a gross breach of the UN's cease fire orders.

The people of this woebegone land of grass huts and rice paddies are simple. If they see the American flag or Uncle Sam's circled star on the ships and planes which are blasting their countryside they will forever believe that they were attacked by Americans.

Some of the people we liberated in Europe still cringe when they see an American bomber overhead. Some are still bitter that we had to bomb cities to rout out the Nazis.

Let's not build up that association in the minds of the Asiatics we are trying to liberate.

Washington should propose at once that the UN authorize all of the military forces rushing to its aid to go into battle under the United Nations insignia. That goes not only for Uncle Sam's bombers and warships but also for those of Australia, Britain and Nationalist China.

Maybe the Koreans unfortunate enough to get caught in the fighting around the 38th parallel won't know what the UN symbol stands for at first, but at any rate they won't think they are being blasted by "American warmongers" like the Russians and their stooges keep drumming into them.

The Country Press Says:

EVERETT, PA., REPUBLICAN: "The thing that has for a long time kept the electorate behind the planners and the speechmakers has been the promise of gain without work —of something for nothing. It is nothing more than just a promise. Westerners are told that they will have new power plants, new irrigation systems and so on, all free at government expense. Farmers are given heavy subsidies, all free at government expense. New and beautiful highways, airports, harbors, and so on, become realities, all free at government expense. The unemployed are given relief and the aged are supported. Veterans receive huge benefits, all free at government expense. It's wonderful. But noe one penny of it is free."

* * *

CROSBY, MINN., COURIER: "The proposed Columbia Valley Administration, a plan which Newsweek magazine calls 'a menace in disguise,' would be several times as large as that of the Tennessee Valley, and would be under the direction of a monopolistic government corporation. The administration of the project would be done by directors under national, not state jurisdiction, as well as scores of workers, also exempt from state control.

"The CVA would ultimately become the owner of a great deal of land as well as be the final authority on almost every activity carried on within the radius of the Valley."

* * *

ELWOOD, IND., CALL-LEADER: "Politics has never yet remedied any kind of a situation and it never will because the ramifications of greed, selfishness, graft and dishonesty are too strong to accomplish any worthwhile end."

Country Press and Socialism

The Industrial News Review recently sent a questionnaire to the country daily and weekly newspapers of the United States asking their views on socialism, capitalism, a federal welfare state, compulsory federal health insurance, federal power projects and related questions.

The 1362 replies showed virtually unanimous opposition to the socialistic philosophy. Hundreds of editors ran the questionnaire in their papers for their readers to answer and received some remarkable returns.

An outstanding example was the Milford Del., Chronicle. Out of a total circulation of 8,135 for the issue containing the questionnaire, it received answers in the mail to a grand total of 2,109. That was an astonishing return when the trouble of filling out and mailing is considered. Reader opposition to socialistic proposals and policies was overwhelming.

Editor Townsend of the Chronicle said "it shows that our people are vitally alive to this question—the 'grass roots' boys are thinking as well as the newspaper editors and publishers."

The people must register opposition to socialistic schemes offered to them by politicians under camouflaged titles, or they will be saddled on them before they know it.

Hollywood - (NEA) — Close-ups and Longshots:

Maureen O'Hara will be completely deglamorized — no make-up, high-necked dresses, lines in her face for the role of a 39-year-old in Republic's "Rio Bravo." Says Maureen, "I'd play a 90-year-old grandmother for a chance to work with John Ford again." . . . John Wayne would give anything even money—to get out of the remaining two pictures commitments RKO holds on his services. Dorothy Lamour will be doing a "Perils of Pauline" in a sarong when her TV show, "Sarong Girl," goes on film this fall.

Marjorie Main doesn't think it's going to worry Lana and Ava, but she's getting dolled-up for the first time in a dog's age in MGM's "Mrs. O'Malley and Mr. Malone." Says Marjorie, "I'm kinda dressed up for a change and I like it fine, honey. Even my hair is sorta fancy. I don't worry about my hair in the Kettle pictures, honey. I just whup it up and let it fly."

Several years ago Ronald Reagan agreed to do a story he didn't like as a "personal favor" to a studio boss. In return the boss agreed to star Reagan in a big outdoor epic if the studio could find the proper story.

Reagan himself found the story and helped negotiate its sale to the studio. The studio released a big announcement saying Reagan would be starred in the film. Other day the picture went before the cameras—with another actor in the starring role. Why movie actors jump off piers.

AFTER CASH

Xavier Cugat's objections to Lorraine Cugat's legal eagle, Milton Golden, is one of the reasons for the delay in the divorce settlement. But Golden says he'll go right on battling for a big cash deal for Lorraine. . . . Mary Brian, the Elizabeth Taylor of the silents-into-sound era, has turned artist and is illustrating a book on Hollywood by vet director Herbert Brannon. Ronald Colman wrote the foreward. Mary says she'd do a movie again if something good came along — "something that would be a departure for me."

Republic's "The City That Slept" will be shot by Allan Dwan in Chicago. It's about a crime solved entirely by the Chicago police. No private eyes or Philo Vance reporters. . . . A dancer named Doug Spencer does a hot Charleston in "Hit Parade of 1951." He was the Texas Charleston champ in 1926. His partner in those days was a cute little blonde named Ginger Rogers.

Every private eye in Hollywood spends his afternoons looking at Humphrey Bogart movies. But not Edmund O'Brien, a screen tough guy who's been accused of stealing Bogey's thunder in the tight-lipped hero department.

* * *

"I don't think I'm like him at all," Eddie told me. "Sure, I've done a couple of funny impressions of him at parties, but then who hasn't?"

The Irish in Eddie gets along great with the Spanish in his wife, Olga San Juan, and he can even spout the language of Carmen Miranda, Diosa Costello and Olga's other friends. "I like everything Latin except Olga's cooking. She's just getting around to learning how to make coffee.

The O'Brien named Edward doesn't miss the live audiences of his Broadway stage days—not as long as Olga's around. He beamed: "She's a great giggler. I get up in the morning and play different characters for her. She never knows whom she's waking up with."

LOCAL COLOR

Judy Canova and Chill Wills are up for a series of homey American films at Republic. . . . A major studio took a big epic to Pomona for a preview. Reel 5 was forgotten—but not missed. . . . Claude Jarman, Jr., says he'll continue commuting between Nashville and Hollywood for pictures until he's finished college. He's now a high school junior, will be 16 in September and stands six feet, two inches . . . June Clyde and Thornton Freeland will try marriage again. They were divorced three years ago.

* * *

Tom Drake, who balked at playing those all American boy roles at MGM, is back in town for a try at something chewier. . . . Contract talks between MGM and Rod Cameron, stymied for several months, are on again. . . . John Beal's Actors Hobby Shop—started to help out-of work emoters who are handy at making all kinds of gadgets—will close its doors July 1. It's estimated that Beal lost $10,000 in the venture.

More than 140,000 families have completed payments on Farmers Home Administration loans.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Ps. 6:2—3, 6—7, 19:7; Matt. 9.1—7

DISEASE IS NOT THE WILL OF GOD

If disease and physical disharmony are ours it is probable that they are from one or more of four causes: (1) actual structural disease, brought about by heredity, accident, contagion, ignorance, or willful abuse; (2) functional disease, which may pass into structural disease, brought about by wrong mental, moral, and spiritual attitudes; (3) lack of, or unbalanced, nutrition, brought about by poverty, ignorance, or willful neglect; (4) environmental factors which directly produce disease, or wrong mental and spiritual attitudes, which in turn produce disease.

Note that in the four sources of disease and disharmony I do not mention the will of God. God does not will disease. God wills health. Disease is an enemy which Jesus fought against and healed whenever He could get co-operation. He never once told peole to bear disease as the will of God. "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." That is the Christian note. It is true that disease comes from breaking he laws of God which He has written into the constitution of things, but God does not send it; we break His laws and they break us. But that makes us, not God, the author of that disease. God has provided for health, not disease. A friend once said to Dr. W. B. Cannon, the great Harvard physiologist: "When you know all the diseases it is possible to have (something over a hundred and twenty-five), you wonder how anyone is ever well." To which Dr. Cannon replied: "When you know a great deal about the human body, you wonder why anyone is sick." (Quoted by Dr. Russell L. Dicks, Religion in Life, 1941, Vol. X, No. 4, p. 515.) The human frame is organized for health and, if the way is cleared by right co-operation with nature, will produce health.

Gracious Father, Thou has wrought possibilities for health and rhythm into the structure of my being. Help me to co-operate with Thee, so that no crippling disease shall mar the efficiency of my work for the Kingdom. Help me to keep fit for Thee. Amen.

Q's and A's

Q—Why is New York City called Gotham?

A—Gotham was a village in England whose inhabitants were proverbial for their follies. Washington Irving applied the name Gotham to New York satirizing the shortsightedness of many of the inhabitants.

* * *

Q—What is an explanation of the word canter, the easy gallop of a horse?

A—The word is a shortened form of Canterbury. It goes back to the days when medieval pilgrims paced their mules and palfreys along the road to Canterbury Cathedral in England. The original expression was Canterbury pace, or gallop.

* * *

Q—How do sharks bear their young?

A—Many sharks, unlike most fish, give birth to living young.

* * *

Q—What is the highest city in the United States?

A—Leadville, Colo., with an altitude of 10,188 feet.

* * *

Q—Who is considered America's first financier?

A—Robert Morris. His skill as a financier, and his patriotic use of his private fortune, more than once saved the country from bankruptcy. From 1781 to 1784 he had complete control of the finances of the country.

Westbrook Pegler

Pegler Castigates Critics of House Committee on Un-American Activities.

New York, July 2 - The view from this window takes in a high corner of a new, greenish building with walls of glass, blotting out the view of the East river. It seems to be 40 or 50 stories high. It slightly resembles a cake of ice and its square lines unrelieved by anything in the way of ornament make it as ugly as the old warehouses that used to stand there. It is a pile of majestic and morose ugliness.

Westbrook Pegler

This is the new headquarters of the United Nations, which was founded five years ago in San Francisco, largely by Alger Hiss, the Harvard study-boy and Felix Frankfurter's protege, who has since been convicted of a charge of perjury on evidence implying treason. At one occasion during that founding, Edward Stettinius, a secretary of state who just didn't know what it was all about, delivered several speeches which had been prepared for him, as we found out later, by Dalton Trumbo, one of the Hollywood patriots who refused to say whether they were Communists. Hiss engaged Trumbo to ghost the remarks of our secretary of state and the checks which paid Trumbo for it later were turned up by the House committee on un-American activities, a body whose members suffered the foulest abuse and smears for years from traitors and culpable fakers.

Calls Critics "Racketeers"

Most of the latter are mean and venal racketeers who now are pretending to have been deluded and deceived by wicked people who took advantage of their great trust in the goodness of the Russian people, as though the Russian people had anything to say about anything. They weren't deluded or deceived. You weren't, were you? I wasn't. They were money hungry. They were vain. They were nobodies who wanted to be important. There was money in pro-traitorism. They weren't traitors. No. They just found pleasure in the political company of traitors and in furthering their dirty work by "interpreting" the Russian people to the American people and allaying the fantastic suspicions of Josef Stalin which had been deliberately raised by the tories and copperheads. And by smearing the Committee on un-American Activities and persecuting Bob Stripling, the chief investigator, and hounding this patriotic young man so savagely that nothing can induce him ever to go back to Washington and contribute of his knowledge and skill to the reluctant rout of the rodents.

Hiss engaged Trumbo to write speeches for a poor, inept secretary of state who didn't know the true character of either Hiss or Trumbo—that is the best we can say of him; that he was so dumb he didn't know. And now Hiss is under sentence for perjury, a euphemism for the worst, and Trumbo is serving a sentence for contempt of congress, another euphemism.

Didn't Suspect Hiss

I was at San Francisco too. I readily admit that I didn't know what it was all about, either. It was too big and swirl and mixed. You couldn't suspect Hiss. He had no line on him. Some of the journalists turned to flippancy to hide their confusion. Some tried hard to understand. The vermin cuttered and squealed, and made a rat-race of it. A few, I am sure, hoped to God that it would turn out well notwithstanding.

The vermin were right. It should have been their show, exclusively, for we had yet to learn that Roosevelt at Yalta, and by a whole course of policy and politics dating back to the "recognition" of the enemy in 1933, had made it impossible for the United Nations to succeed. We were so heavily infested with traitors in the government which Roosevelt established, managed and left to Truman that Jimmy Byrnes was to exclaim later that it would have been impolitic to turn them out of the state department suddenly in a bunch, let the Soviet be offended.

What Will Stalin Do?

There are many, many new buildings along the East river besides the first skyscraper of the new United Nations center. There are parks that you would not suspect if you had been away a few years. There are great apartment houses both on this side and in Brooklyn. Would Stalin be wanton enough to blow up all this, including the green block or ice? Or would he not consider it wiser and more profitable to take it all intact, by a process of depletion and a continuation of the moral and political corruption instituted in 1933 and continued with rising impetus ever since?

To ignore the unspoken thought of every one in New York would be foolish. Everyone asks "What do you think?" Everyone remembers Hiroshima as a precedent established by the United States, and Truman's announcement that the Russians now had the bomb.

Eleanor Roosevelt has wriggled her way into a position of domination on the American representation in the United Nations. Well, they should be nice to their chaps. She always fought their enemies, and her husband made it all possible. Surely they would owe her special consideration.

What's RIGHT?

You are expecting a visit from in laws and aren't looking forward to it with pleasure.

WRONG WAY: Tell the news to all your friends making no bones about how you feel about the matter.

RIGHT WAY: Be loyal enough to your spouse to keep your feelings to yourself.

• JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Experts Proved By Tough Hands

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

There are some hands that the average player can play every bit as well as the master, but today's hand is not of that type. The delicate handling given to it by John R. Crawford in a rubber bridge game recently will make it very clear why John is one of my favorite bridge partners.

North should have passed at three notrump. His partner's bidding showed a balanced hand, and North should have realized that his long spades would be just as good at notrump as at spades. Three notrump would have been a cinch, with six spades and three side aces.

When the hand was played, at four spades, West opened the deuce of hearts. East put up the king, and Crawford won with the ace. It was clear that he had to lose a heart and a club. He could therefore afford to lose only one diamond.

The average player would decide to draw trumps and finesse diamonds twice. This would cost him the contract.

Like every true expert, Crawford does not depend on finesses when he can avoid doing so. His method was to lead the king of spades and then a trump to dummy's ace, exhausting the trumps of the opponents. Next he led dummy's remaining heart. When East played low, Crawford finessed his nine of hearts, hoping to force out the queen.

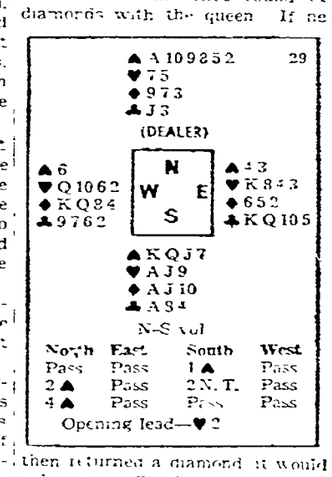

As it happened, West was able to win with the ten of hearts. West then returned the deuce of clubs, hoping his partner would win and would return a diamond. East put up the ten of clubs and South won with the ace.

Crawford next led the jack of hearts and West played the queen. Instead of ruffing in the dummy, Crawford discarded dummy's remaining club.

Now there was no way for West to give his partner the lead. When he led a second round of clubs, dummy could ruff. Crawford got back to his hand with a trump to ruff out his last club in the dummy. He was then in position to finesse the diamonds.

West won the first round of diamonds with the queen. If he then returned a diamond it would ride up to South's ace-jack. If West returned anything else dummy could ruff while South discarded the jack of diamonds.

It is interesting to see that the contract would have been defeated if East had been able to gain the lead once in clubs. East would have returned a diamond allowing his partner to win a diamond finesse. At this point West could still get out safely with a club. He could then wait for his second diamond trick to come to him.

Donald Jeffers Weds Iowa Girl

From Laurens, Ia., comes the news that Miss Marie Trimble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Trimble, of Rolfe, and Donald Jeffers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jeffers, of Dixon, were married at the Laurens Methodist church in early summer. The Rev. A. C. Long performed the double ring ceremony by candle light.

Music included a prelude of traditional wedding music played by a friend of the bride and vocal solos by Earl Gustafson, a friend of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal satin, fashioned with a long fitted bodice. The long, full skirt was fashioned with a court train and her fingertip veil was of French illusion tulle, edged with lace and held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a detachable corsage of blue and white carnations, tied with white satin ribbon.

Maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Soucek of Rochester, Minn., wore a gown of pale blue net over taffeta. She carried white carnations and wore a headpiece of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Diana and Christine Trimble, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

Dale Dershem was best man and ushers were Sam Jeffers, cousin of the bridegroom, and Gene Siddall, nephew of the bride.

Church Reception

The reception was held in the church basement immediately after the ceremony, and was served by sisters of the bride.

After a short wedding trip through northern Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers are at home on a farm five miles northwest of Laurens.

The bride, a graduate of two years normal training at Buena Vista college, Storm Lake, and of the Kahler school of nursing, at Rochester, Minn., is a member of Alpha Psi Omega. She has had five years teaching and two years nursing experience. Mr. Jeffers attended Iowa State college at Ames, two years, is a veteran of World War II and has been engaged in farming.

Mt. Morris Girl Is Wed

Mt. Morris—Miss Katherine Gartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gartner, of Mt. Morris, became the bride of William Lee Incontro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Incontro of Mt. Morris at Trinity Lutheran church, June 24. The Rev. Alfred Stone, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony at 3:30 p. m. Miss Ruth Schmidt and Jack Ulrich of Chicago, cousin of the bride, furnished the nuptial music. The church was decorated with candelabra, palms and white gladiolas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white marquisette with Chantilly lace, fashioned with long sleeves, princess style, and buttoned down the back. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of cascading carnations, for-get-me-nots and sweetheart rose. Her bridesmaids wore gowns of orchid, blue and nile green marquisette, with matching head bands and carried colonial bouquets. The maid of honor was Joanne Wershing of Chicago. Miss Lavone Gilbert and Miss Elizabeth Ulrich were the bride's attendants. Little Johnnie Ulrich, was ring bearer, and Barbara Kay Ulrich of Chicago, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

Reception For 135

A recepion for about 135 guests was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony and was in charge of the Lutheran ladies. Mrs. Ralph Koper and Mrs. S. L. Althouse poured, Mrs. Marjorie Howard of Wabash, Ind., cut the cake.

Katherine wore a suit of blue and white when she and her new husband started on their wedding trip to the Smokey Mountains in Tennessee, where they spent their honeymoon. Upon their return they will be at home in the Watt apartments.

Katherine and Bill are both graduates of Mt. Morris high school. Katherine is at present employed with the Watt Publishing Co. Bill served in the U. S. Army for a few years and attended the University of Illinois. He is now employed at the Kable Printing company.

Nehru Moves Into the Lead Among Asiatic Non-Commies

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

India's switch from neutrality to support of the United Nations policy for stopping the Korean conflict with allied armed forces may presage a development of immeasurable international importance.

There has been no indication whether India would offer material aid to Korea, but the moral support is there. That means much, coming as it does from the biggest non-Communist power in Asia.

It is difficult to escape the belief that this likely represents a striking change in the views of Prime Minister Nehru who has been pursuing a neutral line in the cold war. This thought is strengthened by the fact that only a few days ago Nehru, enroute home from a tour of Red-plagued Indonesia, paused in Burma to make a speech in which he charged that Indian Communists were attempting to "destroy our country and our younger generation."

That calls for consideration, coming as it does from the man who may become the dominant leader of Asia's non-Communist nations. It seemed to indicate at least a change in his method of dealing with the Red ism.

In days not long past Nehru has found some virtue in Communism, and has appeared to be pursuing a rather non-committal attitude in his public utterances. Recently, however, he has voiced some very outspoken criticism of Communism. Whether his trip to Indonesia has had anything to do with this change isn't apparent, but it's interesting to note that he condemned methods of Communism in a speech before a committee of the Indonesian parliament.

The prime minister declared that "Communist methods in India 'lead not to building up anything but to disrupting things and creating chaotic conditions.'" He cautioned the Indonesians to bolster their freedom lest outside forces "come to sweep them away like a broom." He added that the Communists, after finding it impossible to make progress through normal parliamentary processes adopt terroristic activities.

At the same time the prime minister advocated joint India-Burma action for economic consolidation of the two neighboring countries. Back of this undoubtedly lies the fact that India needs foodstuffs from the great Burmese rice-bowl, and that India's industries can supply Burma with many necessities. Moreover in unity lies strength.

June 25 has left four of the five railroads completely tied up since then. The fifth line, the Great Northern has been forced to curtail operations. Thousands of shopcraft, office, and other workers have been laid off by the lines since the strike was called.

In addition to the Great Northern, the struck railroads are the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Chicago Great Western, the Western Pacific, and the Denver & Rio Grande Western.

The switchmen walked out in support of their demand for a 40-hour week at 48 hours pay. They rejected a presidential fact-finding board's recommendation that they accept the 40-hour week with a pay boost of 18 cents an hour.

Hints Stalemate

A spokesman said yesterday the next move is up to the railroads or Mediation Board and added that neither had made more than "small effort" to settle the strike. "We've done all we can," he said.

Stott said in Washington that he was "disappointed" at the union's reply but that the Mediation Board will "continue to use every effort to resolve the dispute." He said he would return to Chicago early this week to try again for a settlement.

Bookie Racket Report Filed By U. S. Group

Washington, July 3 (AP)—The senate commerce committee has lashed a report designed to trace the network which carries racing news to the nation's bookies.

As outlined by the committee this network is an extremely complicated affair, sometimes involving the relay of horse race information through a number of companies before the news reaches those who have paid for it.

Billion Dollar Biz

The committee based the report after holding a series of hearings on ways to curb the estimated three to five billion dollar annual business of the nation's bookmakers.

The report lists more than 2 000 companies and individuals who either receive or distribute race news over an intricate system centered in Chicago.

The report noted that the distribution of racing news is not illegal, although its use by bookies is.

The main race news service mentioned in the report is the Continental News Service of Cleveland, which operates out of Chicago. The committee has said Continental has a virtual monopoly over the handling of such information.

The Chicago Set-up

Continental, to Illinois Sports News, to the Midwest News Service, General News Service and R & H Publishing Co. Then, Midwest to 261 subscribers in 51 Illinois cities; R & H to 113 outlets in 10 Illinois cities; general to 23 subscribers in 10 states, who in turn supply a number of subscribers in other states.

Deaths

MRS. MARGARET HENSCHEL

Amboy—Mrs. Margaret Henschel died at the Amboy Public hospital early Sunday morning. She was admitted to the hospital Saturday, June 24 and had been in poor health for the last four years.

She was born in Amboy, Dec. 21, 1865, the daughter of James and Margaret Kellaher and was a resident of Amboy and vicinity all of her life. She was married Feb. 14, 1887 to Henry Henschel and they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in February 1947. Mr. Henschel died April 1, 1949. When they were first married they farmed near Sublette until 22 years ago, when they came to Amboy to reside.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Nora Dyer, Amboy and Mrs. Rose Kaufman, Chicago and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her parents, husband, two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. at the Mihm funeral home, Amboy and at 9 a.m. at St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery, Amboy.

Name Atomic Chairman Now, Senators Say

Washington July 3 (AP)—Two Republican senators demanded today that President Truman name a new permanent chairman for the Atomic Energy Commission at once.

The senators were Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Bricker (R-Ohio).

The atomic post was thrown open when David E. Lilienthal resigned last February 15. Since then, Truman has named two temporary chairmen—Sumner T. Pike, who left last Friday when his reappointment for a new four-year term hit a senate snag, and Gordon Dean, who now holds the job.

Hickenlooper, ranking Republican member of the senate-house atomic energy committee told a reporter that a commission chairman should have been named "long ago." He noted that Lilienthal announced last fall that he intended to quit.

Bricker also is a member of the committee.

"The chairmanship ought to be filled at once," he said in a separate interview.

The commission now is operating with only three of its authorized five members. One vacancy has existed since April 15, when Lewis L. Strauss left. The other occurred Friday when Pike was forced to step down after three and one-half years of service.

Truman named the 58-year-old Maine Republican for a new four-year term. Last Thursday, senate members of the atomic committee voted five to four to send the nomination to the senate with a recommendation that it be rejected.

The senate, which usually follows committee recommendations on major appointments, is slated to act Wednesday.

North Korean Trucks Hit By Fighters

only by sporadic fighting between Korean forces.

A spokesman indicated the break through the Han river line at Yongdungpo by two tank columns might have been less serious than first anticipated. The Americans were rushed forward from their staging base to head off this column.

American pilots reported that most Communist convoys apparently were lying low during daylight to avoid intense strafing. A renewed surge tonight might bring the invaders in contact with the Americans.

Rocket Attack

The strafing and rocket attack on Americans lasted 25 minutes. One foot soldier was wounded in this, the first combat in any form experienced by most of them. There were five to seven planes in the attack.

Advance headquarters in South Korea said the North Korean spearheads had failed to make any serious progress in a series of breaks through South Korean lines. The drive on Suwon, abandoned American forward base, appeared to have bogged down or collapsed. A spokesman said some of the tanks appeared to have pulled back.

Obituaries

HARRY POWELL

Harry Powell died Saturday, July 1, at 11 p. m. after a brief illness, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Moll, 603 North Jefferson, Dixon.

This Is Week To Spray That Pesky 'Borer'

Champaign, Ill., July 3—(AP)—A University of Illinois scientist says that ground and aerial efforts to save Illinois corn from the European corn borer will reach their peak this week.

Dr. George C. Decker, entomologist with the university and state natural history survey, said "If we are to protect all the fields that need protection, every available piece of spraying and dusting equipment will have to be used to capacity for the next 10 days to two weeks."

He described the situation in east central Illinois as "extremely dangerous."

Is Sixth Report

Here's the state wide corn borer situation as reported by Dr. Decker in the sixth of a series of reports issued Saturday:

"Northern Illinois — north of U. S. Highway 6: pupation is complete. Most emergence is nearly complete except near Lake Michigan. Unless destroyed by wind and rain, the last moths to emerge will continue laying some eggs for a week or more, particularly in northeastern counties.

Field Treatment

"Egg laying has passed the peak. Early treatment of canning corn should have started about June 26. Treatment of field corn in this area should begin about July 3 in the western counties and by the end of the week farther east. Many fields in Ogle, DeKalb, Will and adjacent counties averaged five and six egg masses per plant by June 26-29. Such fields should be treated twice, July 1-6 and a week later.

"North central Illinois—between U. S. Highway 6 and 36: Some early planted fields measure 60-70 inches. Moth emergence is complete in this area. Egg laying reached its peak June 27-July 1.

State Relief Rolls Take a 10,000 Drop

Springfield, Ill., July 3—(AP)—Relief payments went to 102,774 persons during May, a drop of more than 10,000 from April, the Illinois Public Aid Commission reported today.

The May decline was largely the result of increased farm employment, the commission said. Payments during the month totaled $2,720,780 and averaged $26.47 per person.

Three More Nations Line Up in Support Of Korean's War End

Lake Success, July 3—(AP)—Three more United Nations members have lined up in support of UN efforts to end the Korean war.

The three—Sweden, Denmark and Israel—announced their stand in statements at their capitals. Thirty-six other member nations have formally notified the UN of their support.

Official Denies Mobilization Of Reservists

Washington, July 3—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson said today there is no present intention to mobilize reserves in this country in connection with the Korean crisis.

Johnson made the statement to White House reporters after a conference with President Truman at which he brought the president up to date on developments in the Korean fighting.

He was commenting on a story by David Lawrence, columnist, who said today the first step in a limited mobilization may come this week with a call for "volunteer reserves" to come to active duty.

Lawrence said this step "is imperative if the navy, for example, is to get the personnel to man the ships needed this very month."

Asked if there was any prospect of a partial mobilization, Johnson replied:

"Not at the present time."

In response to another question, Johnson said that under recently-enacted law the president could, if he considered it necessary, call reserves to active duty without their consent.

Johnson refused to comment further. He spent about 20 minutes with the president and brought with him deputy secretary of defense Stephen T. Early and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

The Air Force said, meanwhile, that the last of the ten F-51 Mustangs allotted to the South Koreans last week had been delivered to Korean pilots in Japan.

Paint Can With Six Inches of Water, Is Cause of Boy's Death

Woodbine, Md., July 3—(AP)—A two-year-old child tumbled into a 10-gallon paint can holding six inches of water, and drowned yesterday.

Little Milton "Mickey" Jenkins Jr., wasn't seen for a while, so his father and grandfather went around to look for him. They found him, face down, in the big can.

Australia Watching Situation in Korea

Canberra, Australia, July 3—(AP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies announced today that both houses of parliament will reassemble July 6 to discuss the Korean situation.

They have been in recess.

Menzies also said the government has not decided whether to send Australian troops from Japan to Korea.

Leading Stocks Lose Up to $2 Per Share

New York, July 3—(AP)—In a slow-motion decline leading stocks lost a few cents to around $2 a share today.

The market was orderly and with no trace of the frantic buying and selling which characterized last week's high speed plunge.

Trading reverted to a normal pace for the first time since Korea whipped the market into a froth. Despite the Korean situation a good many brokers and their clients stayed away for a four-day weekend. The market will be closed tomorrow for July 4.

Among the losers were U S Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republican Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J I. Case, Schenley American Telephone, International Telephone Nickel Plate, and Johns-Manville.

THE STRONG CLINTON FOODS baseball team will play the Dixon Merchants here tomorrow . . . A comparison of scores usually doesn't mean too much . . . but an indication of the power is shown in their 8-0 win over the Ozark Hillbilly baseball team at Clinton last night . . . The Iowa team allowed the Missouri nine a total of five hits . . . Keith Malone, Clinton catcher, belted three triples and a single in four trips.

* * * *

NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT'S softball play at Reynolds Field is shaping up as a real grudge duel . . . Art Carlson and Russ Shuck (who quit speaking to each other last night) will field the best softball talent that Dixon has available . . . Carlson also has "Bulets" Kirk lined up for mound duty . . . Just who Shuck will place opposite Kirk has not yet been determined . . . Fans who reach the field late will probably have to settle for standing room only.

Amboy Nine Tops Dixon Merchants, 7-1

Clinton Foods To Play Here Tomorrow

Amboy — (Special) — Don Full limited the Dixon Merchants to five hits here Sunday as he hurled the home team to a 7-1 victory. It was the second time this season that Amboy's Merchants have humbled the Dixon Big Six entry.

Long led the Amboy team at bat with three hits. He scored two runs.

Amboy took a 2-0 lead in the third inning. Three more in the sixth put the game on ice.

Dixon made three errors in helping the Amboy cause, but the big item was the visitors' failure to hit. Some hard hit balls were aimed directly at Amboy fielders.

Clinton Here

The Dixon Merchants will face Clinton Foods at Reynolds Field in a Fourth of July afternoon tilt at 2:30 p. m. The strong Iowa team holds an 11-4 win over the locals in a game last week. Ron Sitter is expected to start on the mound for Dixon.

Reynolds Wire Loses to Ozark Hillbillies, 8-4

The Ozark Hillbilly team defeated Reynolds Wire here Sunday afternoon by an 8-4 score. The occasional antics of the Missouri outfit turned an otherwise slow game into a crowd-pleaser.

Reynolds Wire sailed along into the seventh inning with a comfortable 4-1 lead. Bud Kerley had allowed the visitors only six hits and one run. He didn't seem the same after being struck on the arm by a Hillbilly line drive. The Missouri team put together two hits and a Dixon error for three runs in the seventh. The game was tied 4-4 at this time.

They didn't stop there however, and [illegible] four hits in the eighth frame. The result was an 8-4 lead and, as it turned out, the final score.

Armand Riopelle relieved Kerley in the ninth inning and retired the side in order. The damage was never repaired and the Wiremen suffered defeat.

Red Ellis led the home team with a triple and a single. Walters tripled for the home team in the fourth inning.

Grand Detour Tips Merchants By 3-1 Margin

Oregon softball teams held the spotlight at Reynolds Field in Sunday night play. Grand Detour defeated the Dixon Merchants in the preliminary contest by a 3-1 margin. Myers' Sand and Gravel completed the evening by slugging out a 12-5 victory in the feaure game.

The Merchants played the best ball of the year in giving the Grand Detour team a real battle. Grand Detour collected only three hits but turned a fielder's choice into a run when Bud Lair slammed a home run in the first inning. They added a final counter in the sixth when Thompson tripled for the second time in the game.

Smith's triple for the Merchants enabled them to score in the sixth.

All-Stars Lose

Myers' Sand and Gravel had little trouble with Corky Kernan after the third inning of the feature game. With the game tied 1-1 going into the fourth, Gartner doubled, Pelsma flied out, Parks singled, Nordsman singled, J. Dailey was safe on a fielder's choice and H. Dailey tripled. Four runs crossed the plate.

The Oregon team added four more in the sixth to clinch the contest.

Hennigan led the visitors with a double and a home run.

Bud Lair had three singles for the All-Stars. Knack hit a home run in the ninth inning. Ambrose tripled to left in the eighth.

Grudge Battle

The All-Stars will face a challenge game next Sunday. Russ Shuck will pick a group of stars from the City league in an attempt to humble Art Carlson's original All-Stars. Vernon Kirk will be back on the mound for Carlson.

Cubs Belt Reds by 16-0 Score, Sox Split With St. Louis Nine

Chicago, July 3—(AP)—Both the Chicago Cubs and White Sox had pre-Fourth of July dates today after the Bruins battered the Cincinnanti Reds, 16-0, and the Pale Hose divided with the St. Louis Browns, 5-2 and 3-4, yesterday.

The Cubs, who smacked 17 hits to salvage the finale of a three-game set at Cincinnati, moved into St. Louis for a night meeting with the Cardinals. Bob Rush (9-6) was tabbed to hurl against Cardinal Max Lanier (7-2).

* * *

In Chicago, the White Sox opened a three-tilt series with the American league-leading Detroit Tigers. The Sox and Bengals play a twin bill at Comiskey Park tomorrow. The Sox today called on Ken Holcombe (2-3) to toll against Detroit's Fred Hutchinson (8-5).

* * *

Although the Cubs uncorked their biggest attack of the season and got a four-hit job from Walt Dubiel, the win at Cincinnati was marred by the injury of Bob Ramazzotti. The Bruin second sacker will be out six or seven days with a spike wound on his right forearm which required eight stitches to close. Ramazotti was spiked when Ed Erautt of the Reds slid into second base in the fifth frame.

The win was Dubiel's third of the season, but only his first route performance in three starts. The Cub assault included two homers, a triple and five doubles. Andy Pafko belted his 12th homer, as well as a triple and a double. The other circuit blow as No. 6 by Bill Serena.

Sox Lose Nightcap

After Ray Scarborough hurled his eighth win of the season, and his fifth since he became a White Sox, the Hose lost to the Brownies in an 11-inning nightcap. Going into the ninth of Chicago's 3-2 win, Scarborough had allowed only three Brownie hits and had fanned eight. Ray wound up with a five-hitter and nine strikeouts.

In the finale the Sox failed to score Chico Carrasquel from third base with only one out in the ninth and ultimately lost to the Browns 4-3 in the 11th. Bob Cain the fifth Sox pitcher walked across the winning St. Louis run. That snapped a Brown's five-game losing streak and a White Sox string of four straight wins.

DiMaggio To Play First Base For Yankees

By BILL KING

Boston, July 3—(AP)—After setting center field standards for future generations of fly-chasers to shoot at, Joe DiMaggio, the famed New York Yankee Clipper, today was prepared to switch to first base to bolster his drooping World Championship teammates.

"This is strictly my idea," Manager Casey Stengel explained. "I've asked Joe to try first base to help the team. That position has been a sore spot for us all season. I expect to switch him in our next game in Washington."

* * *

A shrug was the 35-year-old DiMaggio's immediate answer when asked how he thought he would do in the late Lou Gehrig's position.

Then, as an after thought, he modestly said: "I'll try anything if it will help the club."

* * *

He recalled that he had played only three professional games at first base, back in 1932, when, at the tender age of 17, he was breaking in with San Francisco.

"Augie Galan, our regular first baseman, went home three days before the season ended and I filled in for him." DiMaggio explained. "I don't remember how I did then and I don't know how I will do now."

"I know there are two ways of playing first base," he continued. "There is the old man's way and the right way. I'll try to play it the right way."

Joe refused to delve into the "old man's" technic but it was obvious he considers it ignoring hard drives beyond easy reaching range.

Gets Dom's O.K.

"Joe played first base when he was a kid," Dom said. "And he did it as pretty as you'd want to see. He sure knew how to use his feet and I'm sure he hasn't forgotten any of the tricks. He'll solve the Yankee first base problem for the next 10 years."

All-Star Baseball Poll Is Complete, Starters Listed

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, July 3 (AP)—The major league's all-star fireworks don't explode until July 11, but the rival American and National leagues today had their big guns lined up and ready to boom in baseball's midsummer classic.

The Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals each with three positions dominated the nation-wide balloting for the 16 All-Star starters—exclusive of pitchers—which ended last weekend.

* * *

A total of 3,167,326 fans participated in the poll for the 17th annual "dream game" at Comiskey Park. The 20-day balloting was conducted by 290 newspapers and radio stations.

* * *

Only three other clubs besides the fence-wrecking Red Sox figure in the lineup American loop Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees must start and play at least three innings. They were the Detroit Tigers and Yankees with two players each and the Cleveland Indians with one.

National league pilot Burt Shotton of Brooklyn has two of his own Dodgers and one each from the Philadelphia Phils, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs, along with the Cardinal trio.

American

Walter Dropo, Boston, .343 ..... 1B
Bobby Doerr, Boston .294 ..... 2B
George Kell, Detroit, .372 ..... 3B
Phil Rizzuto New York .317 ..... SS
Ted Williams, Boston, .326 ..... OF Walter Evers, Detroit, .351 ..... OF Larry Doby, Cleveland, .371 ..... OF
Larry Berra, New York, .291 C

National

Stan Musia, St. Louis, .351 ..... 1B
Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, .378 .2B
Willie Jones, Phila., .302 ..... 3B
Marty Marion, St. Louis, .261 ..... SS
Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, .332 .OF Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, .278 ..... OF Hank Sauer, Chicago, .307 ..... OF
Roy Campanella, Br'klyn, .311 ..C

Stengel and Shotton will pick their own pitchers, probably eight or nine per pilot. They also have the privilege of naming the rest of the players on the 25 man squad behind the eight starters.

The complete National loop team is to be announced Wednesday, and the American league roster the following day.

On the basis of the listed batting averages, the American All-Stars—boasting a one-sided edge of 12 to four in the series—own an advantage in combined hitting of approximately .335 to .315.

The National league had three repeaters from last year's poll—Musial, Robinson and Kiner. Only two repeated in the American league, Kell and Williams.

Kell 1949 American league batting champion, led the entire poll this year with 1,132,954. Top National loop vote-getter and runner-up to Kell was Robinson with 1,061,522. Williams, who led the 1948 and 1949 polls, was third this time with 1,041,396. Musial was fourth with 1,026,408.

ANOTHER ASHENFELTER

State College, Pa. — (AP) — Another Ashenfelter will serve as captain of the Penn State track season. Bill Ashenfelter, younger brother of distance runner Horace, is the newly-elected leader. Horace, who's a post-graduate student at his alma mater, captained the 1949 team.

Woosung Beats Polo Nine for Seventh Win

Polo (Special) — Woosung's league-leading Big Six entry scored a 3-0 victory over the Polo Hoffmans in a game played here Sunday afternoon. The game was scoreless until the sixth inning when a home error gave Woosung three runs.

Rock Falls Is 5-4 Winner in Morrison Tilt

Rock Falls — (Special) — The home team was able to get only five hits here Sunday as they whipped Morrison by a 5-4 score in a Big Six league game. The wildness of pitcher Olson helped to win the contest for the Twin City Ads.

Morrison banged out nine hits but Lewellen settled down each time to get them out. Perce took over in the late innings for Rock Falls and was the winning pitcher.

Rochelle Wins Junior Legion Game Here, 7-2

The Rochelle Junior Legion overpowered the Dixon Junior nine by a 7-2 score at the State Hospital field Sunday afternoon, putting Dixon out of the district tournament.

Rednour was the thorn in the side of the local Legion. He struck out 19 of the 28 men who faced him. Bradley was the only Dixonite to collect an extra base blow. He doubled in the seventh as the locals scored twice.

Contreras gave up only seven hits to the visitors but five errors by various right fielders hurt the Dixon chances.

Richards Sets New European Vaulting Record

Helsinki, Finland, host to the 1952 Olympic games, is getting a good preview of America's top-flight performers.

Bob Richards, the pole vaulter, and Fortune Gordien the shot and discus specialist, stole the spotlight yesterday as Uncle Sam's athletes gave a smashing performance at Tammerfors.

The Americans won all seven of their events, thrilling a crowd of 6,000 who braved a chill rain.

Richards, the Illinois A. C. ace, vaulted 14 feet and 10 inches to better the European record of 14 feet, three inches held by Sweden's Ragnar Lundberg.

Gordien, the Minnesota strong man won the discus with a throw of 173 feet, 10 inches and the shot with a push of 49 feet eight inches.

Middlecoff and Mangrum Lead Motor City Golf

Detroit, July 3—(AP)—Ninety-two survivors in the Motor City Open golf tournament went out to give ole man par another beating today in the third round of the 72-hole affair at Red Run Country Club.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff was in the vanguard of par busters with a 133 total for the first two days of play. That put him one stroke up on the field in the chase after $2,500 first money in the $15,000 tournament.

Middlecoff's old rival Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, held the runnerup spot with 134.

Lightning Kills Junior Legion Baseball Player

Helena, Mont., July 3—(AP)—A 16-year-old baseball player was killed yesterday by a bolt of lightning which also injured seven other player, knocked a dozen persons to the ground and stunned others.

Robert Freeman Morris of Anaconda, Mont., was killed when lightning struck the diamond during a game between Helena and Anaconda American Legion Junior baseball teams.

Arkansas produces about 90 per cent of the nation's bauxite and also contains the only diamond mine in the United States.

'Bookie' Business Is Not Wanted by the Phone Companies, Says Illinois Bell Boss

Illinois Bell Telephone company is encountering all sorts of tricks and legal hurdles on the part of bookmakers as it seeks to strip them of racetrack telephone service.

"The Odds Are Against Us" is the caption of an article in the June issue of the company's magazine that tells the story of what is being done by Illinois Bell toward carrying out its "We Don't Want Bookie Business" policy.

And we mean it when we say 'We don't want bookie business,' states Graham K. McCorkle, president. "And I hope every employe not only understands it but believes in it and lives up to it in all company operations."

"Telephone service is as welcome to the bookie as a tip right from the horse's mouth is to his client," the article relates.

"The proprietor of the horse parlor has to get the winner—and fast—from every horse park from Hialeah to Belmont and from Santa Anita to Suffolk Downs.

"So he'll go to almost any length to take advantage of speedy telephone service.

"Illinois Bell, like other Bell System companies, wants no part of this illegal business. It's our policy to deny or disconnect telephone service to any individual or business when it's evident the service is being or will be used for illegal purposes.

Cut Off 12,000

"Since 1938, IBT has disconnected more than 12,000 lines and scratched the entries of thousands of would-be subscribers. Since then, no leased IBT lines have been used by bookmakers, so far as our company can tell. Many such requests have been received, but all have been denied.

"But keeping a perfect average on this law-abiding policy isn't as easy as it sounds. We can't just walk in and start yanking out lines with both hands every time we think the customer isn't on the up-and-up.

"In the first place, there's no law forbidding the transmission of racing news over telephone wires. Every day the newspapers publish the results, entries and all the other news of the tracks, all received over wires leased from the various telephone companies.

"The Illinois Commerce commission has recently approved our request that we be allowed to take out or deny service being used for illegal purposes.

"The service furnished,' reads the tariff regulation, 'subject to the condition that it shall not be used for the purpose of making or accepting bets, furnishing information or for any other purpose in connection with any gambling scheme, business or device, or for any other similar unlawful purpose.'

Cite Barricades

"But, even with the permission, we're still not on a fast track. Hardly had such permission been granted when the City Club of Chicago filed a petition with he ICC protesting its ruling. The club's petition branded such power as unconstitutional, alleging it violated the 14th amendment, which guarantees due process of law.

"Add to that the wiles a bookie brings into play to protect his business, and the odds against IBT lengthen. If the bookie can come up with an angle that makes him look like a legitimate operator, it's pretty hard to scratch his application.

"In January, Chicago police knocked over a nerve center — a spot that relays the win, place and shows to the smaller horse parlors. But the spot apparently was doing business as a secretarial service with a suite of officers that made heir 18 lines look like honest-to-goodness business equipment.

"And we can't always give the odds that the telephones will stay where our installer placed them. A good electrician can move them from here to there and equip them with a key cabinet. So the bookie rents an entire floor in a building, sets up some businesses that look on the level and gets telephone service for each one. Then, when nobody is looking, the instruments are all moved into one office and he's ready to start separating the bangtail fanciers from their bankrolls.

"Or he can pull the same switcheroo with officers on different floors, or even in adjoining buildings. A few dollars for wire and a fee to an electrician and - - presto! —another book is doing business.

"A few weeks ago, an 'eye' (track officer) at Gulfstream Park, Miami, collared a party telephoning results out of the track. A check showed he's been passing them along to a Chicago number. That was traced to an engineering firm in an office close to the Loop.

Laundry A Bookie

"An ambitious laundry owner on the North side of Chicago put in for 10 lines, explaining he planned a deluxe pick-up service for his customers. It turned out, though, he was more interested in laundering clients than their clothes, and many a neighbor with ambitions to improve the breed ended up losing their shirts before the laundry's service was disconnected.

"The bookies won't always quit when they're behind. One in Effingham kept trying for two years. Twice a horse parlor opened in the same quarters and twice telephone service was shut off. Finally, an accountant hung out his shingle in the space and went to work, using a telephone as part of his equipment. But it wasn't too much later that his accounting was found to be on the price the winner paid while he worked for the same old bookie.

"Horseplayers, the wise boys say, always die broke and the bookies do their part in making sure the player doesn't take it with him.

"But Illinois Bell doesn't want any part of this 'share-the-wealth program. And our company is doing its best to keep its equipment from being a party to any of these illegal enterprises."

Things Have Changed in Our Country in Those 174 Years

By SAM DAWSON

New York, July 3 - (AP)—One hundred and seventy-four years ago tomorrow a group of rebellious Colonists—not all, but a sizable part of the three million or so persons who lived here then—got set to fight for their freedom.

One of the things they wanted most was the freedom to run their business affairs as they saw fit. They did not want to be told how by some bureaucrats in London.

Protect Our Heritage

Today their 151 million successors are deeply involved in a fight to protect that heritage. Their adversaries, wherever they may be, would consider the destruction of the American business system as a prime goal. Freedom to do business as individuals is not allowed in the system this foe would impose upon the world.

Yet, in many respects, the business world the Colonial knew bears little semblance to that of today. The colonies were largely an agricultural country served by small tradesmen. Now we are a manufacturing nation outfitting the rest of the world with tools, machinery and gadgets.

Then we sent out some raw materials—grain, furs, tobacco—to pay for the manufactured goods we had to bring in from the old world. Today we worry about the dollar gap caused by our needing so few things from the rest of the world, compared to what they must have from us.

The early businessman got the capital to build up thih country from Europeans, chiefly the British. He wouldn't have understood what President Truman was talking about with his point four—sending American capital to strange corners of the world to remake them in our image.

Just 174 years ago there was no national debt. The Continental Army would soon set out to start one. Now the debt is $256,516,431,198.48.

Gold Is Hidden

Gold was something you risked your life to find, and the more of it circulated the better off everyone left. Today it is something you hide in Kentucky.

Isolationism was the accepted thing then. Today Americans are fighting in Korea on behalf of the United Nations.

The Colonial businessman wouldn't have known about "a cost of living index", let alone tie his wage scale to it. And he would have been even more surprised at how little a dollar will buy today in goods and services than at how many more of them there are around now.

But the change in methods of doing business is more startling than the change in size.

Industries which now are the mainstay of the nation's economy would be beyond the colonial businessman's comprehension. Products or services he never dreamed of are offered by, among others, the railroad, automobile, oil, gas, aviation, electric and plastic industries. What would Martha Washington have thought, if you asked her if she had enough nylons?

But if you long for these good old days, remember that you can still find these conditions in many backward areas of the world today, if you want to move.

Regular GOP Ignores New Organization

Washington, July 3 -(AP)—GOP leaders turned a cold shoulder today on a new statement of principles put out by self-styled rank and file party members calling themselves "The Republican advance."

A spokesman said the Republican National Committee would ignore the group's declaration, which urged the party to form a progressive program and drop its "purely negative opposition" to Truman administration proposals.

Show Up Democrats

In contrast, this spokesman said the national committee is busy compiling a campaign document listing what the Republicans call mistakes in Truman administration foreign policy, particularly in the Far East. Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Thye (R-Minn) have suggested such a course.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said after reading the lengthy document issued by the "advance" group in Philadelphia that he still stands on the declaration of principles put out through the national committee last February.

There was speculation among Washington Republicans that some of those represented at the Philadelphia meeting might be getting into position to support someone like General Dwight D. Eisenhower for the party's presidential nomination in 1952.

Ike's Backer Helps

There was no suggestion that Eisenhower had anything to do with formation of the advance unit, although Senator Ives (R-NY), who openly is plugging for the general's nomination took an active part in getting the group organized and praised its statement of principles.

As cardinal principles, the Philadelphia group called for:

"1. A tax policy, to provide maximum industrial incentives for owners, managers and workers.

"2. Vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws to curb monopoly capital.

"3. Long range assistance through public works and projects designed to stimulate new economic opportunity, with an endorsement of deficit spending during times of depression.

"4. The exercise of maximum efficiency and economy in government, as recommended by the Hoover commission.

"5. Intelligent conservation of our national resources."

In a separate resolution the group endorsed President Truman's decisions for military action in Korea.

Active in the new organization are Henry V. Poor, New York [illegible] former president of the New York Young Republic[illegible] and Russell Davenport, editor and writer who was an adviser to the late Wendell L. Willkie in the 1940 presidential campaign.
